

AcNext Capital Intern Job Description

Company Overview

AcNext Capital is a venture capital firm based in São Paulo, that invests in private companies in developing stages, both in Brazil and abroad, which hold a high growth potential leveraged by technology and innovation. For more details: www.acnext.com

What we are looking for

We are looking to add an Intern to help augment our growing team. The role will engage across all functions of the firm and will have exposure to the entire deal process from origination and due-diligence through deal structuring and post-investment portfolio management. This role is a balance between research, financial analysis, and business strategy. The ideal candidate is interested in innovation, emerging technologies, growing businesses, start-up ecosystem, venture capital investments and has superior analytical skills, is extremely organized and is a structured communicator. Candidates who take initiative, have a tremendous work ethic and a high level of maturity are considered ideal.

Background: Engineering, Business Administration or Economy

Job Description

Title: Intern

Location: São Paulo – SP

Responsibilities:

- Market research including structured analysis to support potential investment decisions (i.e.: market trends, emerging technologies, competitive landscape)
- Financial modeling including sensitivity analysis to support potential investment opportunities
- Financial evaluation of project investment opportunities
- Deal flow management, following up opportunities, tracking progress and up-dating reports
- Support negotiations for new investments
- Provide on-going monitoring of investments with the firm's portfolios
- Interface on a daily basis with Founding Members, Co-Investing Members and Portfolio Company CEO's, CFO's and Board of Directors members, providing business related analysis and guidance
- Maintain relationship with industry experts, business partners, venture capital funds and professional organizations to enhance visibility of the firm and its portfolio companies in the market place

Qualifications:

- Strong academic credentials
- Graduation: 2nd Semester 2022 or 2023
- Proficiency in English (reading, writing and verbal communication)
- Quantitative, analytical and critical thinking skills
- Financial modeling skills and Excel skills
- Market research and analysis
- Interpersonal and communication skills
- Clear, concise writing skills
- Self-driven initiative
- Previous work experience as entrepreneur or in venture capital is desirable
- Additional desired skills include collaborating well in a team-based and productivity with independent working environments

Compensation:

- R$ 2.000,00 monthly salary

Send your resume: contato@acnext.com